Making the Trip

Train Indianapolis can be accessed by train from various cities throughout the Midwest.
Amtrak +1 800 872 7245 http://www.amtrak.com

Highway Indianapolis is served by a number of major Interstates as well as state highways. I-65 runs north-south from Chicago to Louisville while I-69 also runs north to Fort Wayne. I-70 runs through Indianapolis from St. Louis to the west to Columbus, OH just south of Indianapolis. I-74 runs east-west from Cincinnati to Danville, Il. I-465 runs around the city as well as connects all the major interstates and I-865 also serves as a connector for the major interstates. Six U.S. Highways also run through Indianapolis. They are: US 31, US 36, US 40, US 52, US 136 and US 421.

From the airport Taxi: IND features two taxi stands located on the lower level of the terminal. To call a cab, locate the overhead taxi signs and push the call button. All cab fares to and from IND include a $15 minimum charge, regardless of distance. A cab ride to the Central Business District should take around 10-15 minutes.
