6. FOOD AND DRINK

Food

Basque food is very varied:

- Good fish: cod and tuna dishes are very famous
- Cheese: idiazábal cheese is really delicious. It is made in the mountains of the Basque Country
- Marmitako: is a dish made of fish and potatoes. A must!
- Vegetables: Guernika peppers.
- Pintxos: small snacks of Spanish omelette, ham, tuna, pepper... this is the most typical way to try all kinds of delicious stuff.

If you want to try something different, “Pintxos” is the most typical choice. Some of them are very elaborated and all of them are delicious. The price is usually around 1.5 to 2 €.

You can taste “pintxos” in almost every bar in Bilbao, especially in the city center. Our suggestion is to go to Calle Licenciado Poza (commonly known as “Pozas”) and try one - or more than one.

In the following list you can find the most famous places in Bilbao:

Bar Ziripot, Bar Mugi, Bar Juan txu @ Licenciado Poza Street. Places full of “pintxos”.

Bar El globo @ 8 Diputación St. Excellent “pintxos” and sandwiches near Moyua underground station.

Bar Eme @ 5 General Concha St. Very famous sandwiches in the city.

Drink

Maybe the most famous alcoholic drink from Basque Country is “txakolí”. It is slightly sparkling dry white wine. Take care; you may get drunk very fast with this wine.

Patxaran is a basque sweet liquor that’s made of blackthorns. Very easy to drink, thus also very dangerous.

A very popular drink among young people is “kalimotxo”, a fifty-fifty mix of red wine and cola. Cheap and tasty.

Of course, you can also drink beer. You can try a local brand, Keler or La Salve are two local brands that have a good reputation in Spain.

It's usually allowed to drink in the street if you are next to a club/bar/pub. Since it's forbidden to smoke inside of venues it is very usual to get out for a smoke break and take your drink out as well.

A famous area to go for a drink is Licenciado Poza street. You can go to drink beer, kalimotxo or any kind of cocktail that you want.

Another street to go drinking is Mazarredo (in Bilbao too). Open until 5:00 AM.

7. SAFETY TIPS

Euskadi is a safe place. There are not many problems with thieves or pick pocketing; but that doesn't mean it would never occur.

At the airport:

- At the airport, go direct to your baggage claim belt and take your baggage. Don't let anybody help you with it.
- Ask in an information center the bus and taxis prices
- At the airport, keep your possessions near you. Don't let anyone help you.

Some general tips:

- If you have a backpack, do not carry in your back in crowded places, like Metro (Underground) or train.
- Always keep your money with you. Split money in different pockets. Losing all your money at once is a hard problem.
- It is safe to withdraw money from a cash dispenser but take some precautions: look around when you are going to take the money and cover the number pad when you are introducing your PIN code.
- Carry your documentation separate from your money.
- At night, be careful with overly drunk people, they can cause problems.

And, of course, if you have any problem, look for a policeman. The emergency phone number is 112.

8. EASIEST WAYS TO FLY IN TO THE CITY

Bilbao Loiu Airport (BIO)

Bilbao Loiu is one of the most important airports in the north of Spain so if your choice is to catch a plane, you will be most certainly flying to Loiu.

There are two main options for getting from the airport to the City Centre: Bus and Taxi

Bus

The bus stop is located outside the airport at the right side and is marked with a self-descriptive bus sign:

The trip lasts about 15 minutes and it costs just 1.45 €.

There are buses every 30 minutes, so you may have to wait for the bus to arrive. The bus will leave you at the “Termibus” Bus Station, near the city center, where you can take almost any other bus or metro because it is at 5 minute walking from “San Mames” Metro Station.

Please check section 2 of this travelguide (the event site) for a map of how to get to the venue from Termibus bus station.

Taxi

You can find outside the airport terminal, usually on the left side of the exit door, a bunch of Taxis parked and waiting for you.

The taxi ride will cost from 20 € to 30 €. The trip should last about 20 minutes to the city center. It can vary depending on where you are going.

Other surrounding airports

You can also fly to Santander Airport. In that case you can also take a bus right at the airport which will drive you to Bilbao. You can check the timetable and the price on the following link: Timetable and Price from Santander Airport to Bilbao

The bus will leave you at the same Bus Station stated before: “Termibus”

9. OTHER WAYS TO GET TO BILBAO

From Madrid and Barcelona

From Madrid and Barcelona

Maybe you are not flying directly to Bilbao, or you don't like flying at all! Of course, there are other options to get to the city.

If you are flying to Madrid or Barcelona, you can take a bus or a train directly to Bilbao. The next chart can help you as a guide of what to expect in terms of duration and cost of the trip:

ORIGIN	TRANSPORT	DURATION	COST
Madrid	Bus	5h	30,00 €
	Train	5h	50,00 €
Barcelona	Bus	8-9h	45,00 €
	Train	6h 15 min	65,50 €

Trains from France

If you are coming by train and travelling from France (or through France) your destination should be Hendaye, a town that is located in the very border between France and Spain.

There you should take a train from the company "Euskotren" which can take you to Bilbao. Note that this is not a direct train, you'll need to switch trains at "Amar" Station in San Sebastian.

The cost of the ticket is 6.30 € and it takes 3.5 hours to get to Bilbao.

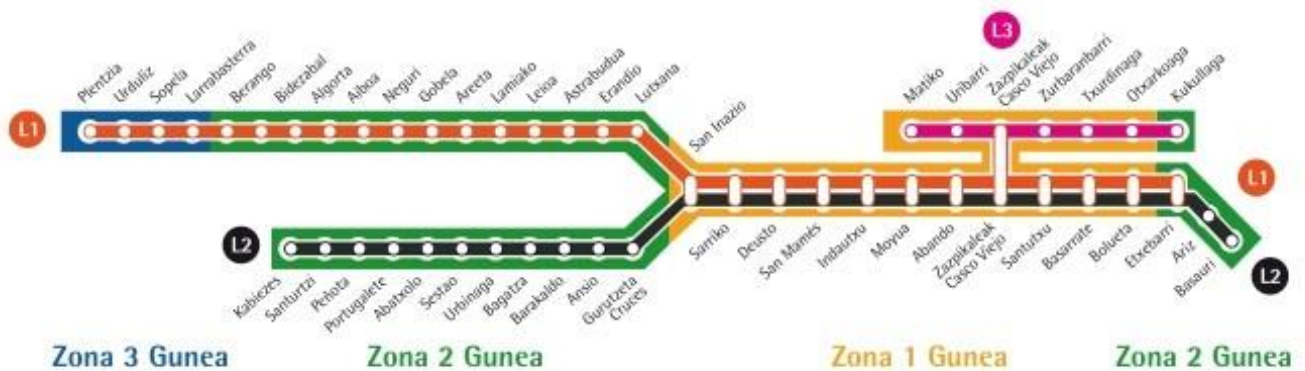

Once in Bilbao, the train stops at two stations: Bolueta (next to a Metro stop) and Atxuri, near the city centre.

10. PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Underground (Metro Bilbao)

The Underground system in Bilbao has three lines separated into three zones with different prices.

- A Zone, in yellow, is the city itself and the city centre.
- B Zone, in green, split in B.0 B.1 and B.2, adds most surrounding towns to A Zone. "Ansio" station is in B.2 zone. This is the station for the PT Venue.
- C Zone, in blue, adds the furthest towns to B Zone. Probably, you won't need to use it.

Metro fares

The fares of the zones depends on how many zones you are travelling through, independently of which ones are you crossing. (All information is available at metrobilbao.net.)

One Trip ticket:

- 1 Zone: 1.60 €
- 2 Zones: 1.80 €
- 3 Zones: 1.90 €

Creditrans:

There is an option to get a “prepaid” ticket for multiple rides. It is called the Creditrans barik.

First, you’ll need to purchase the “Barik” card, which costs 3€ and can be shared among up to 10 people. It should be available at any Matro Bilbao station, from ticket machines.

Once you have your “Barik” card, you can top-up at any Metro Bilbao station.

The fares using this card are reduced to:

1 Zone: 0.90€

2 Zones: 1.07 €

3 Zones: 1.18 €

Metro timetables

The Metro is working from 6:00 until 23:00 from Sunday to Friday.

On Friday night, it works until 1:30, with trains every half an hour.

On Saturday night there are generally trains every half an hour.

Bus

The best way of moving on Bilbao is to use Public Buses. There are 5 zones but it is very unusual to need to use zones 3,4 and 5. The city center is zone 1 and the venue and staff hotel are in zone 2.

You can find the general plan in bus\_map.com or clicking in "Plano General De Líneas".

The cost for a single trip for two zones is 1,45 € but you can use the same card as for the Metrio, "Creditrans Barik" for a discounted price of 1,13 €.

There is also an app for android in BilbaoBus. It helps you find a bus stop near your position and tells you the best way to get to your destination!

Tram

Bilbao has a tram line that goes around the city centre. It is quite limited because it only covers the equivalent to the Metro A Zone, but you will have a very good view from the tram. The usual frequency is one tram every 15 minuts.

The ticket costs 1.50 € but, same as for the rest of public transportation, you can also use your "Barik" card on the tram, for a discounted price of 0.73 €.

Taxi

You can always take a cab! But be careful, the price is going to be much higher than any other public mean of transport. Nevertheless, taxis in Bilbao don't usually have the same problems as in other big cities, it isn't very common to have the "touristic trip" in a taxi, that consists on the driver choosing a very long way to get you to your destination in order to make your trip more expensive and there isn't a risk of taking a "fake" taxi.

Well, you can opt for teleportation... but if you succeed at it, please tell me how you did it!
